

Green Biologics and Songyuan Laihe Chemical team up

31 August 2011

Biorenewable chemical company Green Biologics (GBL) and Songyuan Laihe Chemical, a company focused on producing bio-fuels and bio-chemicals from non-food bio-mass resources, have entered into a collaborative development and licensing agreement in China.

Under the terms of the agreement, GBL and Laihe will collaborate to improve the economics of Laihe's biobutanol plant by optimising GBL's fermentation technology using sugars derived using Laihe cellulosic pre-treatment process.
